With the quick turnaround of matches at the African Nations Championship (Chan), Bafana Bafana coach Molefi Ntseki says physical and conditioning coaches have their hands full to ensure players are ready for Friday's clash against Niger.

Bafana were made to work extra hard for their 2-1 Group C win over Guinea on Monday in Kampala to keep their hopes of qualifying for the knockout stage alive.

Ntseki said in their win over Guinea, secured through goals from Mamelodi Sundowns midfielder Neo Maema and unattached Thabiso Kutumela, they were made to run a lot and recovery is going to be important.

"We are looking to the next three days before we play Niger [on Friday]," he said after the win. Our physical and conditioning coach and medical team will have to work on the players to make sure they are fresher and focused after winning against such a difficult team.

"They made us run and in kilometres we covered defensively, it is about 12. When that happens, it means recovery mechanisms must come in immediately.'

Looking back at the match, Molefi said the important thing was to get the three points to remain in contention for the last-16 stage.

"I still have to catch my breath because of how difficult this game was. What is important for us was to score the goals and win; we are pleased with the result."
